

COME INTO THE SUIT.

Scott & Stringfellow, complain of the Sale of Mr. Pace's Bank Stock.

BECOME PARTIES PLAINTIFF.

The Brokerage Firm Joins in the Bill of the Metropolitan Bank-A Colored Investment Company (Chartered).

Messrs. Scott & Stringfellow, bankers and brokers at No. 1114 East Main street, have filed in the Law and Equity Court a petition asking that they be admitted as parties to the suit of the Metropolitan Bank against Christian and Montague, trustees for James B. Pace. In the paper it is alleged that the defendant, James B.
Pace, is indebted to them, but that they cannot state the precise amount because they hold collateral for said debt, which was not sold.

They also allege that James B. Pace conveyed to Messrs. Christian and Montague, trustees, stock in the Planters' National Bank amounting to something over two thirds of the entire capital stock of the bank, and that said stock, according to the statement made by the officers on December 14, 1895, something like $50 per share, and they file a printed copy of the statement as published in the newspaper.

OBJECT TO THE SALE.

The petition further alleges that the petitioners are informed that Messrs. Montague and Christian, trustees, acting under the deed of December 14, 1895, have made a conditional sale of this stock at $20 per share, subject to the confirmation of the court. Messrs. Scott & Stringfellow state that they do not know the details of the transaction, but are advised and believe that the price is wholly inadequate, and they ask the court not to confirm it.

THE COURT ENTERED AN ORDER MAKING THE PARTIES PLAINTIFF IN THE SUIT.

EXPLANATION AS TO COUNSEL.

The bill of the Metropolitan Bank of Richmond against Messrs. Christian and Montague, trustees, and others, had to be prepared under urgent circumstances, and as Messrs. Leake and Carter were already possessed of the facts, and it would have been almost impossible for the regular counsel of the bank to obtain the necessary information in time to meet the emergency believed to be existing, it was thought best to get them to prepare the bill. That special purpose having been accomplished, the regular counsel for the Metropolitan Bank of Richmond, Messrs.
G. Carleton Jackson and Thomas N. Carter, have taken charge of the case, and at their request, Messrs. Leake and Carter will remain in it and their associates.
Messrs. Pogram & Stringfellow are named for the firm of Scott & Stringfellow.

A COLORED INVESTMENT COMPANY

The Ikkama Building, Mercantile, and Land Association of Virginia was chartered by Judge B. R. Wellford, in the city Circuit Court. The company has a capital stock not less than $50,000, nor more than $100,000, and to hold not more than 100 acres of real estate in any one county in the State. The principal office is to be located at Richmond, and the officers for the first year are: President, J. B. Manchester, Va. president; A. S. West, Richmond, Va., vice-president; James H. Harris, Richmond, Va., treasurer; Cornelius Minniss, Chesterfield county, Va., secretary. The company is organized at Richmond, Va., and its general superintendent and manager. The directors are composed of the following names: J. B. Manchester, T. G. Jefferson, and J. G. Griffin, all of whom are colored.

WARRANT FOR MRS. TAYLOR.

Mrs. Farrar Lodges the Charge of Assault Against Her.

Justice Vincent, of Henrico county, issued a warrant yesterday for the arrest of Mrs. Laura P. Taylor, who lives in Brooklyn, on the complaint of Mrs. M. E. Farrar, who stated that Mrs. Taylor had assaulted her, and attempted to drive her from her home. The case will come up for examination this morning.

WORTH LOOKING INTO.

That's exactly the case with our $10 Suits. They're doubly worth examining on account of their quality, and especially on account of our prices.
Money-makers are always close buyers. They always make it a point to have a little ready cash with which to take advantage of opportunities.

Such an opportunity to secure an ALL-WOOL, NEAT-FITTING, BLACK OR BLUE SUIT LIKE WE ARE OFFERING FOR $10 CANNOT BE FOUND ELSEWHERE. Try us.

News from the Association.

Tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock Rev.
W. T. Taylor will speak at the Young Men's Christian Association
The World's Greatest Need. Dr.
Taylor does not intend to introduce a to a Richmond address. The Webb Quarter and Miss Maud M. Porter will assist in the opening song service. It is expected this time that the most attractive meetings of the year. The will open Monday night at 8 o'clock.
Mr. R. E. Simpson will speak to the boys at 8 o'clock on an attractive theme.
Nashley Hall has general charge of the meeting.

Mr. W. V. Turner, the assistant sec- retary, severed his connection with the association yesterday. He is going to spend a short vacation at his home in Louisiana, before going to Middle- ton, O., to take charge of the associa- tion there. Mr. Turner leaves many friends behind, who regret his departure. He has proved a most efficient officer during the three years he has been con- nected with the Young Men's Christian Association here. His successor, Mr. Stubbs will succeed Mr. Turner, and will com- mence his duties on the 10th of January.

Arrange for Mr. Fox's Reading.

The Ladies' Committee met yesterday evening at the Rosemary Library, and they all agreed to have Mr. Fox read the 23rd at the Masonic Hall. Mr.
Levin Jones was appointed chairman of the committee. The other members of the committee are Mrs. Bagby and Mrs. Everett Ward.

A FATAL FIRE.

A Young Man Burned to Death— Singular.

LYNCHBURG, Va., December 29.—(Special.)—The residence of Major Stephen J.
Peters, in Bedford county, was destroyed by fire last night, and the son of the owner, who was the only occupant of the house at the time, was burned to death. Young Peters was 23 years of age, and was a very popular in community. The cause of the fire is unknown.
Counsel for Walter Ross, a deaf mute, have instituted suit in the Corporation Court for $500 against the Southern railroad. Plaintiff claims that he bought a duffel coat from a peddler on the Southern railroad. He was deaf and dumb, and on his back was a placard on which was written "W. H. Cole, deaf and dumb." After leaving Washington plaintiff went to sleep, and that the conductor called to wake him, and that he Lynchburg was reached. Ross claims that he was on his way here to attend the funeral of his mother, and that the great alarm and distress to which he was subjected has entitled him to the damages sued for.

Marriage at Mosely's.

MIDLOTHIAN, VA., December 29.— (Special.)—Mr. James Martin and Miss Susan Goodie were married in marriage yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mr. G. Berger, at Mosely's Junction. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John R. Wilkinson. In the presence of a large number of friends of the couple. After the ceremony a reception was tendered the bride party by Mr. Berger, and the newly-wedded ones left over the Southern railway for a trip South.
Mr. Martin is a prominent employee of the Farmville and Powhatan railroad, and the bride is an accomplished and pretty young lady.

Charlotteville Notes.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., December 29.—(Special.)—Miss Katie McGee, daughter of John W. McGee, who lives near Ivy Depot, died last night at the Piedmont Hospital. She was taken about about a week ago, for treatment for some complicated nervous disease. She was about 19 years of age.
A large and cultivated audience attended the performance at the Levy Opera House, last evening, when W. S.
Gilbert's "The Wedding March" was presented by the V. V. Dramatic Club, of the University of Virginia, for the benefit of the restoration and the delightful german folk.

A Norfolk Assignment.

NORFOLK, VA., December 29.—(Special.)—A deed of assignment was put on record in the office of the Clerk of the Court, this morning, conveying the stock of furniture, carpets, etc., in their store, No. 138 Main street, together with all their personal property on said premises or elsewhere. The Bank of Portsmouth is secured for a note of $300, and for all other notes that may be due by it for the amount of $17,000, and the assets, including book accounts, are said to be $25,000.

Death After a Long Illness.

WOODSTOCK, VA., December 29.—(Special.)—Miss Kittle Haas, daughter of John Isaac Haas, of this place, died at her home this morning, after a long and suffering illness. Cancer was the cause of her death. Miss Haas was about 45 years old, and universally loved and respected. The weather here was for December. At 8 o'clock this morning the thermometer stood 56 degrees higher than last Friday at the same hour.

Marcella Sembrich writes of VIN MARIANI

THE IDEAL TONIC:

"Additional praise of 'VIN MARIANI' is unnecessary, it is so well known; but it is a pleasure to again add testimony to the superiority of this marvelous tonic."

MAILED FREE.

Descriptive Book with Testimony and Portraits
OF NOTED CELEBRITIES.

Beneficial and Appreciable.
Every Test Proves Reputation.

Avoid Substitutions. Ask for 'VIN MARIANI.'

At Druggists and Fancy Grocers.

MARIANI & CO.,

1201 N. 4th St. New York, N.Y.

Agents for the U.S.A. and Canada.

WARRANT FOR MRS. TAYLOR.

Mrs. Farrar Lodges the Charge of
Assault Against Her.

Justice Vincent, of Henrico county, issued
a warrant yesterday for the arrest of
Mrs. Laura P. Taylor, who lives in Brooklyn, on the complaint of Mrs. M. E. Farrar,
who stated that Mrs. Taylor had assaulted
her, and attempted to drive her from her
home. The case will come up for examination this morning.

Mrs. Taylor came here from Dakota.
She is said to have made the acquaintance of Mrs. Farrar's sister shortly after settling in Henrico. She is now living in between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She confided to her that she had a message from the dead for her. The latter, very much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the deceased went on to say that the spirit of the deceased had communicated the message to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar became acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message
from the dead for her. The latter, very
much surprised, inquired if the lady had
not lost a son some years before.
Upon being told that the spirit of the
deceased went on to say that the spirit of
the deceased had communicated the mes-
sage to her. The incident, which followed
resulted in the conversion of the mother
of the dead young man to spiritualism.
Through her husband, Mrs. Farrar be-
came acquainted with Mrs. Taylor, and
soon after, Mrs. Farrar took up her residence in Henrico. She is now living in
between them. Mrs. Taylor one day
called on the sister, who is an invalid,
and was not residing in the house. She
confided to her that she had a message from the dead for her